Ari J. Stiller is a Certified Appellate Specialist and principal with Stiller Law Firm in Encino. He has briefed and won numerous appeals in state and federal court, including the Ninth Circuit, the California Supreme Court, and the California Court of Appeal. His recent, significant victories include Kim v. Reins International California, in which the California Supreme Court ruled in favor of the plaintiffs on an important wage-and-hour question, as well as Nirschl v. Schiller, in which the Court of Appeal defined the scope of anti-SLAPP protection for certain settlement negotiations.

In addition to his work at Stiller Law Firm, Ari maintains an Of Counsel association with the respected employment firm of Kingsley, Szamet & Ly, where he handles that firm's writs and appeals. Outside of his practice, he serves as a Lecturer in Law at USC Gould School of Law, sits on the State Appellate Judicial Evaluation Committee of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, and serves on the California Lawyers Association's Committee on Appellate Courts. Ari previously practiced on the motions and appeals team at a prominent Los Angeles defense firm and served as a judicial fellow to Judge Paul Watford on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.
